

DAY OF THE DEAD: LOOKING TOWARDS OUR PAST AND FUTURE

Día De Los Muertos, or Day of the Dead, is a Mexican holiday that observes the omnipresent relationship between life and death. Each year, friends and families gather together to spiritedly celebrate the lives of those departed. These joyous days remind us of how fleeting life is, while also reminding us to care for our future generations.

The Barnsdall Junior Arts Center Gallery has a long tradition of inviting community members, families, and artists to create altars that encapsulate the spirit of the holiday. From small, personal altars that explore one's ancestry, to large, abstract installations on the effect of global warming on our planet, our community of artists has created art installations that look at both our pasts and futures as a means of trying to understand who we are as individuals, our relationships with each other, and our place in the world.

BARNSDALL
JUNIOR ARTS CENTER GALLERY

DCA

BACSAC

DAY OF THE DEAD: LOOKING TOWARDS OUR PAST AND FUTURE

Día De Los Muertos, or Day of the Dead, is a Mexican holiday that celebrates the omnipresent relationship between life and death. Each year, friends and families gather together to spiritually celebrate the lives of those departed. These joyful days remind us of how fleeting life is, while also reminding us to care for our own generations.

The Barnsdall Junior Arts Center Gallery has a long tradition of inviting community members, families, and artists to create altars that encapsulate the spirit of the holiday. From small, personal altars that explore one's ancestry, to large, abstract installations on the effect of global warming on our planet, our community of artists has created art installations that look at both our pasts and futures as a means of trying to understand who we are as individuals, our relationships with each other, and our place in the world.

BIRD
SANCTUARY

LEXA VONN
OPHELIA BALLEGAARD

Small plaque or label on the yellow wall.

EXIT

LAS FAMILIAS AMERICANAS ESTAN UNIDAS.

¡VIVA LA MÚSICA!

DIE

¡VIVA LA MÚSICA!

¡VIVA LA MÚSICA!

